Rogers Brook Bids Opened; Plenty Of Money To Do Job

17 Musicians In Music Festival

Seventeen members of the Andover High A Cappella Choir, Band and Orchestra, have won membership in the Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival Chorus, Orchestra and Band, Mrs. Miriam McArdle, director of Music Education in the Schools, announced.

The following Andover music students were winners: Barry Low, Jack Craig, Douglas Burtt, Robert Cole, Scott Downs, Edward Parker, Bruce Hinckley, David Machen, Frank Orlando, Mary Ellen Esslambe, Dorothy Svenson, Judith Lelacheur, Peggy Whitefield, Anne Leacock, Joan Haggerty, Mary Runyan and Carol Brightman.

Membership in the Northeastern District Festival is a coveted honor, achieved only through com-

Nine bids — most within the appropriated amounts — have been received on Rogers Brook reconstruction.

The apparent low bidder is A. D'Alessandro and Sons, at $216,509.

The state's estimate for the project is slightly over $222,000.

In computing the total cost, the town has to add one-eighth of the contract price, as its share of the engineering and contingencies. Thus, on the basis of the low bid, the town's share of the engineering-contingency fund would be about $27,063.

The town will put up half of the base bid — $108,254 if the apparent low bidder is accepted — plus the additional amount of $27,063.

However, the voters have already approved the total brook appropriation of $185,000, far in excess of the amount which will be needed.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, Russell G. Doyle, chairman of the Board of Selectmen and Town Engineer Thomas F. X. Flynn, attended the bid opening in Boston, at the Division of Waterways.

Pike School Contracts Signed

Pike School is planning to move into its new facilities by September of 1963, according to an announcement this week coincidental with the signing of construction contracts.

Headmaster William H. Harding, indicated that the total cost of the new structures is $700,000.

The school will include 26 classrooms, in two separate buildings; a central structure will house the administration offices, cafeteria, auditorium, library and craft centers. There will also be locker room facilities and play fields.

In the future, it is planned to construct a gymnasium and a covered area to provide a year-round physical education program. The facilities will be located on Porter rd., about three-quarters of a mile from the present Hidden rd. site.

Plans for the new school incorporate a number of unusual features which are designed to facilitate the school's unique ungraded and specialized teaching programs, which help to make

No Application Yet For Federal Money

Pressure Drops In Water Break

Hundreds of residents had only small amounts of water available last Saturday night, when a water main break on Greenwood rd. resulted in sharply reduced pressure throughout the water system.

Supt. Donald Bassett and his men worked from 5 p.m. Saturday until 2 a.m. Sunday to fix the ruptured pipe.

Although only a handful of homes, and the Rolling Green Motor Inn, were without water completely, practically the entire town felt the effects of the break. The pumping station at Haggett's Pond was shut off, and the town was supplied from the two reservoirs and the wells.

The villain in this case was a cap on the end of a short piece of

The town has not yet officially applied for a share of "accelerated program" funds allocated to Massachusetts.

Just a week ago, it was reported that the Selectmen were enthusiastically applying for the funds — an outright grant from the federal government. Some 50 million dollars is coming into the state, with federal officials deciding on the allocation to the towns and cities based on applications by those communities.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff is planning to review the application with the Selectmen next Tuesday night, with the probability that some action will be taken then.

He expressed confidence this week that there will still be funds remaining, when Andover's application is processed. Mr. Duff contends that few towns and cities have plans ready to submit under

Heavy GOP Vote Here; Questions 1-2 Defeated

Andover held true to its traditions Tuesday, piling up majorities for most Republican candidates.

And there was more-than-usual agreement on two ballot questions.

An overwhelming "no" vote was recorded on the graduated income tax issue, and against the legislators' pay raises.

Nearly 88 percent of the voters — 8,527 tracked to the town's six polling places.

And long after they had gone home, and probably to bed, election officers continued to count their ballots.

It wasn't until 4:30 a.m. that precinct six brought its nearly completed tally to the town hall. Town Clerk Irving O. Piper and Registrar Harry Sellars helped complete the final portion of the task, winding up with a complete town vote at 5:15.

The first precinct to report was precinct four, at 11:30 p.m. Precinct five came in at 12:05 a.m.; precincts two and three were bunched at 1:30, while precinct one arrived at 1:45.

Then came the long wait.

When the tally was completed, few surprises were evident.

Edward W. Brooke had led the ticket — 6,367 votes — against but 1,955 for Francis E. Kelly.

One Democrat, state Auditor Thomas J. Buckley, received a solid endorsement, 4,250 to 4,005 for his Republican opponent, Phillip M. Walsh.

Dean K. Webster, in his first try for public office, was given tremendous support locally. In his campaign against Senator James P. Rurak, Webster rolled up 6,083 votes here, while Rurak had 2,244.

Arthur Williams, campaigning for re-election to the Legislature, piled up 6,220 votes in his hometown. Incumbent William Longworth of Methuen received 5,237 and Albert P. Pettoruto of Lawrence polled 4,964.

Raymond LaRosa, one of the two Democratic candidates and a resident of Andover, outran his fellow Democrat. He received 3,222 votes

Student Council Elects Officers

Election of officers of the Student Council were recently held at the Junior High School.

Those elected to lead the Council for the current school year are: Brook Newcomb, president; Douglas Dodd, vice president; Anne Moss, secretary; Karen Stewart, treasurer.

The election came as a climax to an intensive and enthusiastic campaign period. The highlight of the campaign came on the day before the election, when a "Meet The Candidates" day was held. On this day, three assembly programs were held - one for each grade. Each of the candidates was introduced to the assembly by his campaign manager, who outlined his candidate's qualifications for the office he was seeking. Each candidate then addressed the student body describing the work he planned to do during the year, if elected.

Many posters were displayed on the walls of the school during the campaign period and much printed material was distributed to the students. The result was a very enthusiastic response in the voting.

and very close races for all offices. The faculty advisor of the Student Council is Richard E. Neal, boys' guidance counselor.

Advice Offered On Transplant

The falling of autumn leaves the true indication that the processes of plants have for this year.

Deciduous plants, those plants that drop their leaves fall, have entered into their period. Now is the time to plant these plants, according University of Massachusetts College of Agriculture.

In planting or transplanting deciduous trees and shrubs in the fall, the job should be done as early possible after the leaves have fallen. Even though the plants are making active twig growth season, root growth will continue until the ground freezes. The sooner the plants are transplanted, the more new roots will be developed to replace those cut off in the moving.

This new root growth is critical to the plants for several years. While the plants are dormant, moisture continues to evaporate from the twigs throughout winter. The moisture lost through this evaporation must be supplied through the roots. The greater the root system, the better the plant will be able to replace the lost moisture.

It is the roots of any plant that hold the plant upright and it against wind and weather.
Important that roots be developed for this purpose before winter storms. Once the ground freezes, the moisture in the soil becomes ice and as such is unavailable to the plants. Those which have suffered from this of water because of reduced systems before the ground are more likely to suffer from injury. Keep all newly transplanted trees and shrubs amply watered from the time of transplanting the ground freezes. A 4-6 inch mulch applied to newly transplanted trees after there is a frost in the ground will reduce deep penetration of frost. Under the soil moisture beneath the continues to be available to the plants. Roots will continue to develop in this unfrozen soil.

Raytheon Wins Fund Award

A total of $132,715 has pledged at the Andover plant Raytheon Company for the United Fund Campaign, in-announced by H. A. Loebel, manager.

With returns nearing completion, the contributions of the employees have won the Greater Lawrence United Fair Share Award for the manufacturing facility. This is presented by the United Fund if over 50 percent of an organization's employees pledge
"Fair Share" contributions. This year
"Fair Share" amounted to hour's pay per month.

The Greater Lawrence
Fund will receive $86,750 Raytheon Company. This includes the contributions of employ-all of the Company's local Under Raytheon's payroll deduc-tion plan, employees can save the locations anywhere in the tion to which their contribuwill be sent.

This year's total well exceeds the established goal of $111, which had been set for the An-

The falling of autumn leaves is the true indication that the growth processes of plants have ceased for this year.

This new root growth is essential to the plants for several reasons. While the plants are dormant, moisture continues to evaporate from the twigs throughout the winter. The moisture lost through this evaporation must be supplied through the roots. The greater the root system, the better likelihood of an ample supply of water for the plants.

Raytheon Wins Fund Award

A total of $132,715 has been pledged at the Andover plant of Raytheon Company for the 1963 United Fund Campaign, it was announced by H. A. Loebel, plant manager.

With returns nearing completion, the contributions of Raytheon employees have won a Greater Lawrence United Fund Fair Share Award for the local manufacturing facility. This award is presented by the United Fund if over 50 percent of an organization's employees pledge "Fair Share" contributions. This year's "Fair Share" amounted to one hour's pay per month.

The Greater Lawrence United Fund will receive $86,750 from Raytheon Company. This includes the contributions of employees in all of the Company's locations. Under Raytheon's payroll deduction plan, employees can specify the locations anywhere in the nation to which their contributions will be sent.

This year's total well exceeded the established goal of $115,000 which had been set for the Andover plant.

Contributing substantially to the $86,750 total for the Greater Lawrence United Fund was a 20 percent increase in Raytheon Company's Corporate gift. Added to this were the gifts of a number of plant executives who joined the Greater Lawrence United Fund's 1 percent Club, thereby pledging 1 percent or more of their annual salary to help the 30 community services which comprise the local United Fund organization.

Heard About Special Program

Miss Beatrice L. Stevens of the Andover High School faculty recently attended a meeting of the Exchanges, a group comprised of heads of high school English departments from this part of Massachusetts.

A special guest at the meeting was Donald Cobb of Lexington High School, who discussed the Lexington Basic Studies Program offered to the limited ability student who is really desirous of learning. Teachers from the English, Mathematics, Social Studies, and Science Departments worked together in forming and presenting this course. Now in its second year, this course is proving successful.

A large percentage of students was able to return to regular classes in these studies after a year's work in this program. Students spend three hours a day in this program and in the remaining time attend regular classes.

International Fiesta At Lawrence YWCA

Appeals Board Heard 4 Cases

The Board of Appeals has taken four petitions under advisement, following hearings held Nov. 1. James E. Lewis asked permission to build on an undersized lot at the northern end of Elm st., but Planning Board chairman Harold T. King objected, on the grounds that the parcel should be under the jurisdiction of the Planning Board.

He said the lot was not properly transferred to the present owner, and should have been dealt with as a sub-division.

The lot remained, after Harriet and Floyd Napier received a variance in 1959 for the next lot. Chairman Alfred W. Fuller commented that the original owners knew the lot Mr. Lewis owns would be "stranded" but sold it anyway.

The Knights of Columbus drew considerable opposition when they asked for a permit to build their clubhouse on land at Dascomb rd. and Osgood st., near Route 93. Opponents stressed the additional traffic that might be brought into the Osgood st. area.

Robert Noonan, speaking for the Council, said there had been considerable objection to a previous variance, allowing the Knights to build on Lowell st. property. If the present request is granted, he said the Lowell st. property will be sold.

Robert Mitterman sought a variance to allow him to sell a lot at 14 Thresher rd., with less than the required area.

Robert Rabenius asked permission to build a garage, behind a house he plans to construct at 158 River rd. The garage would house equipment used in his contracting business.

Mr. Mitterman was represented by Atty. Richard K. Gordon. Mr. Mitterman wants to sell a small piece of land to neighbor Russell MacLeish, in order to make the latter's house conform to state requirements. Until recently, it was noted, both men assumed the land belonged to MacLeish.

Mr. Rabenius was represented by Atty. Burton Shaker and his opposition was represented by Atty. Vincent Stulgis.

The site on River rd., near the access from Route 93, is industrially zoned. Mr. Rabenius wants to keep his contractors' vehicle there, in a garage, as an accessory use to a house he plans to build.

Mr. Stulgis presented a petition signed by 31 neighbors in opposition.

FinCom Considering $10,000 Transfer

The Finance Committee is in the process of deciding whether it should transfer $10,000 to the School Committee, for a study of schematic plans for secondary schools.

The Committee made its report of the FinCom last week, at a meeting. The School Board originally voted to ask the voters for this money, during a special town meeting tentatively set for Nov. 19. But no town meeting will be held.

The School Committee wants to have an architect study the possible plans for secondary school expansion.

Add to the senior and the junior highs.

Add to the high school and a junior high.

Build a senior high and connect the present high school to junior high use.

The architect would present studies to the School Committee possibly in time for further action at the annual meeting next March.

FinCom Chairman Phillips Marsden Jr. noted that his group will study only the financial aspect - not decide which of the plans should be accepted.

He also commented that a reduction in the spending, for the amount requested, would be appreciated. The reserve fund, continued, must last all departmental needs for the balance of the year.

There was some discussion about the possibility that the architect might, in effect, return some of the money, if he ultimately is chosen to do the school job. It was explained that sometimes the cost of preliminary plans is absorbed into the over-all architect's fee, thus saving the payment of fees for both preliminary and final plans.

Meeting Nov. 9 First Cub Pack

The first Divine Worship Service of Faith Lutheran Church was held at Pike School Sunday, Nov. 4, with 105 persons in attendance.

The Rev. Hartland H. Gifford, pastor of the new mission of the Lutheran Church in America, spoke on the subject, "When Hope Becomes Reality", pointing out that man's concern with the temporal is always less than that with which he should be concerned, i.e., the eternal significance of his existence in which his present hope is an assured future reality.

The congregation used its new hymnals for the first time, with the newly completed altar as the focal point of the physical arrangement of the auditorium. Greetings were read from Dr. O. Karl Olander of Worcester, president of the New England Synod; Dr. Eskil G. Englund, also of Worcester, the president of the New England Conference; the Rev. Reuben A. Lundeen of Chicago, head of Church Planning for the Lutheran Church in America; the Rev. Richard L. Thulin of Lowell, president of the Boston District; and the Rev. Emmet Eklund, dean of the Eastern Massachusetts District.

A coffee hour followed the service. A nursery was available and will continue to be, as services continue each Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Arrangements are currently being made to begin Sunday School classes Nov. 18 at 9:30 a.m.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE PLAN 25 YEARS AGO

Town boards and departments, with the Taxpayers Association, were trying to put together a capital expenditures plan some 25 years ago.

The subject was broached by Selectman Howell Shepard to the Taxpayers.

And a meeting was held Nov. 12 to talk about setting up a plan for a five-year period. Projects were to be listed by priority, and an effort would be made to even off the total expenditures each year so that no year would be specially burdensome.

It fits perfectly into the plan even now being considered 25 years later.

Feels FinCom Has Listed Sum Twice

The Housing Authority has expressed its wonderment and confusion over a Finance Committee listing in its suggested capital expenditure plan.

The FinCom listed an amount, to be raised by taxes in 1963, to make up for the loss in tax revenue resulting from Urban Renewal.

The Housing Authority, meeting late last week, wondered how it could get the message across that such a listing is not needed. Members indicated that they have informed the other town boards repeatedly that all of the Urban Renewal area will not be lost to the tax rolls at once; that the expected loss is already included in the Urban Renewal expenditure; that land, when sold to a developer, comes back onto the tax rolls.

In summation, the Authority appears to feel that the amount listed by the FinCom under this special category is, in fact, included in the amount listed for Urban Renewal. They also feel that the amount will never be as great as listed, because Urban Renewal isn't going to take all of the property at once.

Club Departments Schedule Meetings

Two November Club departments have scheduled meetings next week.

The Art Department meets Oct. 12 at the home of Mrs. George K. Sanborn, 20 Hidden Field. The 2:30 o'clock meeting will hear Mrs. Jesse Bottomley speak on "Pewter".

Hostesses will be Mrs. Manfred M. Jones, Mrs. Willis G. Hartford and Mrs. David C. Anderson.

The Drama Department will meet Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 14, at the home of Mrs. Willard H. Currier, 61 Chestnut st.

Mrs. Frederick R. Hulme will speak on the "Drama of Travel". Hostesses will be Mrs. Andrew J. Lloyd, Mrs. Christy M. Robinson and Mrs. Edward I. Erickson.

The meeting will be held at the High School at 8 o'clock. Title of Mr. Cousins' talk will be "World Report".

Mr. Cousins, in addition to his editorship of the Saturday Review, is the author of several books. He has taken six trips around the world since 1945, providing him with ample background for his conclusions.

A donation will be asked of those attending, with separate adult and student fees.

Special Service On Thanksgiving

A special Thanksgiving Day service, traditional in Christian Science churches all over the world, will be held in this area by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Andover.

Hymns, prayer, and a specially prepared Bible Lesson-Sermon are all a part of the service, which also includes a period for spontaneous expressions of gratitude by church members in the congregation.

The entire congregation will join in reading these Bible verses included in the Responsive Reading: "Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name. . . . O Lord our God, all this store that we have prepared to build thee an house for thine holy name cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own" (1 Chron. 29:13,16).

The Sunday before Thanksgiving, a special radio program entitled "The Time for Gratitude" will be presented on the Sunday Christian Science radio series, "The Bible Speaks to You," at 10:05 a.m.

Disaster Unit Held Meeting

The Andover Red Cross Disaster Committee held a meeting Nov. 1 at the Red Cross Chapter House.

John Hewitt, chairman, presided.
One of the most important subjects discussed was fall out shelters and their importance in protecting and saving lives. Burton S. Batcheller, Civil Defense director for Andover, brought those present up-to-date on the importance of individual preparedness.

The physical set-up for assisting in a disaster was reviewed and all phases of preparedness were considered. The committee plans to meet again in the near future to solidify all plans already in operation. Many trained volunteers are needed to carry out the many phases of disaster preparedness as well as all other Red Cross services. Those interested may call the Red Cross Chapter House for information.

The meeting closed with the reassurance that Civil Defense and Red Cross are closely cooperating for the benefit of the community.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. Leon Field, Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mrs. Roger Whitcomb,
Mrs. William Perry, Mrs. J. J.
Tavern, Ralph Preble, Robert S.
Zollner, Edward F. Murphy, Burton S. Batcheller, Civil Defense director; John Hewitt and Irene Libbey.

The Disaster chairman also announced that several persons have successfully passed a Disaster Training course in Family Interviewing at South Church. The course was under the direction of Miss Dorothy Boyce, Eastern Area
Red Cross representative in Family Service. The following volunteers completed the course:
Mrs. Edward Warwick, Mrs. Roger Whitcomb, Mrs. Ralph Wirtz, Mrs.
Joseph Daly, Mrs. J. J. Tavern,
Mrs. Benjamin Slade, Mrs. David
Coffman, Mrs. C. Edward Buchan, Mrs. John M. Birdsall and John Hewitt.

District Tallies Show Winners

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Lots Of Aid Accepted

The question of accepting federal aid for local projects has assumed unusually great proportions recently, as Urban Renewal plans forced all of us to consider this portion of the plan.

Some flatly rejected federal aid as being unworthy of the town.

But we already receive such aid, all the time, and without a hint of a problem.

School lunches come from federal sources; much of the money spent for welfare comes from the federal treasury. Certainly the Social Security payments to thousands of our citizens come directly from the government.

In many ways, aid from Washington continues to come into our town.

The state, too, sends aid for many things. This might be Chapter 90 roads, school building construction, education, bus transportation — all sorts of aid.

And we acknowledge that this money comes from our own pockets, as state and federal taxpayers.

We merely wish to carry through with the idea that federal aid is unworthy of the town, to point out that cutting off such aid would strangle the town, just in the areas existing at the moment.

We don't seem to have been quite so cautious about accepting this aid in areas other than Urban Renewal; thus, possibly, that particular argument in the Urban Renewal picture is not as important as it is made to seem.

More Precincts

One lesson, on a strictly local level, can be learned from Tuesday's election — something has to be done to get the count finished earlier.

It was anticipated that the count would run into the wee hours of the morning — and it did.

This will continue, until the town does something about it. For we know that the legislature, now that it has compelled all municipalities to wait until the polls are closed to begin counting, will steadfastly uphold that needless requirement.

We face two choices, really:

Buy voting machines.

Create smaller precincts.

The latter course seems most sensible. The town's voting population is expanding all the time — there's no reason why the number of precincts can not be increased, with new boundaries drawn to meet modern needs.

Smaller precincts — fewer voters in each — would make it possible to handle a heavy vote such as Tuesday's, or the even-heavier vote in a presidential year, without putting such a load on the precinct workers. We hope the town clerk and the Selectmen can see their way clear to studying this proposal carefully, and put it into effect within a reasonable time.

Let's Compare

Comparisons sometimes suffer, when you try to compare grapes with apples, but it is safe to compare schools with schools.

Lets do that, for a moment, and have our eyes opened.

The town builds a 20-room school. Add to this number, the kindergarten rooms, the auditorium-gymnasium, cafeteria and administrative offices. The cost runs up to a million dollars.

Pike school is to begin building a complex of structures, with 26 classrooms, approximately the equivalent in gymnasiums, auditorium, offices, etc., for $700,000.

The School gets no state aid; but it must conform to safety requirements set forth by the state, and live up to all of the same building code restrictions.

It seems to us that Pike School has all the best of it; the town gets the worst, when it has to get involved in the government's red tape, additional requirements, and other non-essentials.

The town builds good schools to be sure — the Henry C. Sanborn school is a fine building, and the building committee should receive everyone's congratulations.

But there's some difference in the price, and we are certain that Pike isn't getting an inferior building.

This is one comparison that deserves greater study, and a lot of serious thought. Perhaps of such a study could come some savings for the town.

National Education Week

This year two well-known programs will be observed at the same time, National Book Week and National Education Week, from Nov. 11-17. As the Memorial Hall Library has already had its autumn Open House and the display of fall books, the week will stress displays and materials on the education theme.

All teachers, and especially those interested in mathematics, are most cordially invited to take some part of the week to visit the library to see books on education with a separate showing of books on mathematics and some science titles.

The library is open week days from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Book displays will remain on view throughout the week, but titles of interest to educators may be reserved for later reading.

Parents who are interested in the newer methods of teaching and learning and adults who wish to continue learning will find that there are books to help them in many subjects.

Every November, the week which includes Veterans Day is set aside as National Education Week by four national sponsors: the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the U. S. Office of Education.

This observation grew out of the revelation during World War I that an alarming proportion of the American people were illiterate and physically unfit. New and the newly formed American Legion inaugurated AEW as part of their plan for attaining a program of education adequate to American needs for the twentieth century. Then in 1922 and U. S. Office of Education became a sponsor with the National Congress joining in 1938.

The basic purpose of the library's exhibits is to make every American aware of the important role that education plays in a democracy, and to help him realize that good colleges and schools are, to a very large degree, his personal responsibility. It has been estimated that 30 million adults will visit their schools and colleges during the week.

"Education Meets The Challenge Of Change" is to be the national theme. A greater interest in education is the national goal.

National Book Week

Ballardvale branch library is showing its new books during National Book Week, Tuesday and Thursday, Nov. 12 and 15. There is something there for all age groups, and any attractive title may be reserved and will go into circulation the following week. The library room at Ballardvale is closed Monday this week, Veterans' Day.

Boys and girls in Andover will have a story hour on Thursday, Nov. 8 at the usual time, 3:35 p.m. All are cordially invited.

Littlest Listeners

Nov. 8 the Ballardvale Littlest Listeners have their morning program from 10 to 10:45 o'clock. Mrs. Emery Ackerman, in charge of the group, is willing to add new members until further announcement is made.

In Andover, at the Memorial Hall Library, the next group to meet is the Robins, on Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, at 10 o'clock. At present all registrations for this group and for the Cardinal group are closed.

Great Books

The reading for the Great Books meeting Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 o'clock, is to be Nietzsche's "The Birth Of Tragedy". A few copies are available at the library for those who do not own this year's readings.

Story Hour

A pleasant theme runs through the stories to be told at the story hour Thursday afternoon, Nov. 15, at the library. "Pumpkin Pie" by name, the hour will have all sorts of stories related to that pleasant vegetable: "The Pumpkin Giant", "The Huck-a-Buck Family" and "The Man Who Lost His Head" are all going to provide good listening for boys and girls. Story hour begins at 3:35 and runs for about an hour.

Miss Putnam Is Association Officer

At a meeting of the Northeast sub-regional Council held in Andover, with representatives from 22 libraries present, the Statement of Needs of Libraries of this region was approved.

The by-laws had been adopted at the meeting held Sept. 7. By Oct. 1, all the sub-regional councils having adopted by-laws and approved their statement of needs, the next step in bringing into being an overall plan for regional library service for the entire Eastern Region of the Commonwealth was to organize an Eastern Regional Library Council.

A meeting for this purpose was held at the Brookline Public Library Thursday, Oct. 18. All the sub-regional councils in the whole area were represented. By-laws were adopted and the following officers elected:

Chairman, Milton E. Lord, Boston; vice chairmen, Dorothy F. Haywood, Lynn, Rita Steele, Fairhaven and James S. Healey, New Bedford; Recording secretary, A. William Kinkel, Newton; corresponding secretary, Virginia S. Doane, Harwich; members at large for two years, Francis Keough, Framingham and Miss Miriam Putnam, Andover; for one year, Eleanor T. Cooney, Weymouth and Philip H. Dolan, Cambridge.

People are going at such a fast pace today that their cost of living would go up even if prices came down.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — November

The Townsman issued a two-page paper early Wednesday morning giving the total of all offices contested in the election.

H. Newton has been named director of the Andover Brass Band. A large setter dog has been to Mr. Hill's home, from where he disappeared recently. He was badly hurt from gunshot wounds and probably will die.

25 Years Ago — November

Punchard is favored to Methuen in the annual horse game, to be played tomorrow. Fred E. Cheever is requesting a change in the zoning by-law to allow use of two lots in Center. The lots are under consideration of the Appeals Board has been to grant a variance.

The Taxpayers Association department heads will meet in the lower town hall to discuss a capital expenditure program for the next five years.

Plans are underway for a census of the unemployed, to be carried out by a local committee of nine persons.

Edward Dodge has been named as commander of the local V.F.W. Post.

10 Years Ago — November

The town cast a record Tuesday, with 7,689 men and women going to their polling places. Collins, Giles and Law were re-elected representatives; John Adams was named senator. Another record was established — 483 absentee ballots were counted, more than in any other election. General Eisenhower's popularity was as much evidence here as in most other parts of the state and nation.

The need of a new school in addition to the four now in the town, was brought to the attention of the School Committee at a regular meeting this week. Kenneth L. Sherman said growing school populations make the need necessary.

Raymond B. Wilbur, a second year divinity student at Harvard has accepted the call of the Congregational Church in Ballardvale, and will begin his ministry here Sunday.

Andover is favored to win Exeter Saturday at Brothers'.

Warns Against Poisoning Pets

Dr. Gus W. Thornton, assistant to the chief of staff of the S.P.C.A.'s Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, Boston, issued a strong warning against the indiscriminate use and less storage of poisons used in destroying rodents such as rats and mice.

At this time of year, when students are trying to get indoors for the winter, there is a definite increase in pet poisonings caused by poisons such as dicumol and strychnine.

Pet owners are particularly advised to be sure that any poisons used are not only completely protected from domestic animals while being used, inside or outside the home, but kept out of reach of a dog or cat or child if stored in the home.

Dr. Thornton also advises summer residents who are closing their resort homes to remember that year-round residents and pets who could be poisoned by rodent killers are indiscriminate used. Summer home owners are asked to be as careful of rodent poisons at their summer homes as they would be in their winter residence. Pet owners are reminded by Dr. Thornton of dangers to their pets from special poisons designed for roaches, beetles and insects.

As a final reminder, Dr. Thornton quoted from Mass. state law: "Whoever negligently or maliciously places any poisonous food for the control of rats, mice or other rodents in a place where it may cause injury to any human being or domestic animal shall be punished by a fine of $25.00". "Malicious poisoning carries a much stiffer penalty including a jail term", concluded Dr. Thornton.

Several Attend Andover Grange

Andover Grange was well represented at the meeting of the Grange held last Saturday in Ballard Grange Hall.

The evening session began with a discussion on "Modern Electronics" was held, in the presence of William Young and William Burn. Those who attended Andover Grange were Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Darby, Wilbur Living, Mr. and Mrs. William Young, and Berna Pike.

Several Attended Poinona Grange

The afternoon session met at 4:30 with a business meeting, followed by a talk on "Green Belts in Massachusetts" by Dr. Maddox of West Boylston. Supper was served at 6 by members of West Boylston Grange.

HAVE NOT YET APPLIED FOR FUNDS

The program. Thus, the lateness of Andover's application will probably not have an adverse effect when it is considered. It has been learned, however, that there is a first-come, first-served basis for consideration, and that the latest applications may not be in time to receive any of the funds. It could not be established this week whether or not any communities in the state have yet received actual approval for a portion of the money.

According to the government, only those areas where there is chronic unemployment are considered. Andover qualifies because of its proximity to Lawrence. The title of the plan "Accelerated" means what it says—the money is meant to swell the total already available for projects which are already planned. Thus communities could do more work than already scheduled.

Duff said the application requires that the community be ready to undertake the project within 120 days of the time it is authorized.

If the town of Andover received money for a public works project, it must be ready to get underway within four months. This requires, of course, that detailed plans be in hand immediately.

For that reason, the town's major sewer problems, water distribution projects and street improvements are being considered by Duff.

Plans for the sewer and water work already exist in detail, and if town meeting approves the town appropriation, work could start within the four-month limit.

In a letter to the federal agency, Duff has outlined a number of projects that qualify and has indicated that a formal application will be forthcoming.

Most likely of the projects to be submitted, according to the manager, is the sewer line from Essex st. to the Ballardvale treatment and pumping station. This trunk main has been considered as one of the most necessary in the town, he stated.

Plans call for the sewage to run by gravity flow from Ballardvale to Essex st., along the Shawshen river.

REPORT CARDS

Mr. Doherty has served as secretary of the IDC.

HELEN T. CHICKERING

Helen Tileston Chickering, who died at Lawrence General Hospital, Oct. 12, was the sister of Rebekah Chickering, who was the head of the English Department at Abbot Academy for many years.

She was the daughter of Munroe and Florence Chickering, and was born in Dorchester. After the family moved to Milton, Helen attended school, was associated with Milton Academy and later graduated from Radcliffe College.

In 1934, after her parents' death, she came to live with her sister on Central st., and taught at Abbot Academy for seven years. As a citizen of Andover, she took an active interest in town affairs - being one of the early members of the League of Women Voters, also a generous contributor to the Red Cross and an enthusiastic supporter of the Co-Op.

As a staunch friend of the Boston Symphony, she attended the concerts for many years and contributed to its support.

She was a member of the Andover Historical Society, the College Club of Boston and the North Andover Unitarian Church.

She was definite in her opinions, loyal in her friendships and in both Andover and her summer home at Petrusham, she was a gracious entertainer of both young and old.

Her keen mind and remarkable courage, all through her long illness, were an inspiration to her many friends.

South School PTA

Won First Prize

The South School PTA has won a first prize in the fourth annual District Citizenship Award competition.

Announcement of the award came at the state convention of the Massachusetts PTA, held in Springfield Oct. 27. Attending the session from the South School were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King, Robert Johnson, Mrs. Glenn Inman and Mrs. James Hills.

The prize is $100, and may be spent in any way the local PTA wishes.

The local award was made on the basis of a report on the South School PTA's efforts to initiate a pilot program to evaluate the "Twenty-One Inch Classroom", the channel 2 educational series. Contrary to Channel 2 policy, South School was able to gain admission to the program. The PTA met the cost of the TV set and the per-pupil fee.

The programs were evaluated by Lauristan Ward, curriculum coordinator for the local schools, and by the teachers. The Andover Library contributed to the success of the project, by providing books suggested in the TV course as necessary supplements.

After six months of observation, it was concluded that the television undertaking was successful, and the entire school system now holds membership.

The PTA award is made to give recognition to local units which have best carried out programs demonstrating acceptance of civic responsibility, with particular reference to their influence on community living.

Following a brief meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Alan G. Chadwick, Mrs. Gordon Lauder presented Russell Curry of the Curry School of Dancing of Boston.

From his opening remarks, Mr. Curry kept up a lively line of chatter that thoroughly delighted the mixed group. Using club members as his partners, he enthralled the audience with his demonstration of the various techniques of dancing.

To the complete enjoyment of all, he illustrated the right and wrong methods employed by many on a dance floor. First Mrs. Helen Dooley and then Miss Agnes Phillips served as models.

With Mrs. Richard Locke, the different variations of the beloved fox trot took on a new dimension. Mrs. J. D. Ledbetter was the partner chosen for a graceful tango. Both the beautiful Viennese waltz and the standard waltz were danced by Mr. Curry and another club member, Mrs. Mario Howard. Mrs. Paul Gyrsting was his partner for a rhythmic rumba.

Mrs. Irving O. Piper and Charles Custer, hostess chairman for the evening, were assisted by Mrs. J. J. Breed, Mrs. A. J. man, Mrs. William Delhart, Robert Campbell, Mrs. J. Carmichael, Mrs. F. G. Cas, Mrs. Walter Caswell, Mrs. J. Curry, Mrs. Theodore Cas, Mrs. Fred Cole and Mrs. R. Serving as pourers were Manfred Jones and Mrs. Harri Brown.

Expert Sees Hope For Saving American Elm Trees

There is hope yet for the American elm, says Dr. Malcolm McKenzie, director of the Shade Tree Laboratories, College of Agriculture, University of Massachusetts.

Although no cure is yet in prospect for Dutch elm disease, he feels that the disease can be effectively controlled by preventive means - by eliminating the bark beetles which carry it and by discovering and breeding resistant elms.

Dutch elm disease, nearly always fatal, is widespread in Massachusetts and in many other parts of the country. Certain localities in this state are losing their elms rapidly, although in others the disease seems to be leveling off and even decreasing.

Dr. McKenzie relates community effort with a local decrease of the disease. Some communities spend up to $25,000 for Dutch elm disease control.

Presently the best means of control are spraying and prompt removal and destruction of the bark beetle breeding places.

Since towns generally spray only once a year, the application should be made under strict precautions and the best possible conditions including minimum wind, moderate temperature (above 40 degrees F) and dry weather.

Dr. McKenzie warns homeowners against products claimed to be cures or preventatives of Dutch elm disease. Nothing advanced so far, he said, is of any practical control value. Owners of infected elms are advised to make arrangements for their immediate removal.

To prevent the spread of Dutch elm disease by bark beetles, their breeding places - the bark of infected elms - must be destroyed. Dr. McKenzie recommends the following procedures:

From Oct. 1 to April 1, cut and burn all dead elm trees and branches which have died since the previous May regardless of cause, within 1,000 feet of healthy elms. You wish to protect. Under no circumstances allow elm wood of any kind to accumulate in wood-piles.

During summer months, remove and burn diseased and dead elm material promptly before bark beetles have a chance to breed. A delay of a month at this season may be an important factor in disease spread.

As a substitute for the above, remove bark thoroughly and burn. The least desirable alternative is spraying the bark.

Try saving a diseased tree by immediate removal of affected parts, especially in early summer, when a very small, limited infection is found.

Dr. McKenzie also advises systematic scouting for the disease especially during July. Since the symptoms of Dutch elm disease are similar to those of several other afflictions, laboratory tests are needed to distinguish it.

A long-range hope for eliminating the disease is finding and breeding resistant varieties of elm trees. One such strain, the Buisman, is quite similar in other respects to the susceptible American elm. Certain Asiatic and European types are also relatively resistant.

WATER PRESSURE DROPPED BADLY

10-inch pipe extending up Greenwood rd. from Lowell st. The cap came off the pipe, and out flowed the water.

Fortunately, Bassett explained, the cap was intact and was placed back on the end of the pipe.

But while doing this, the department crew had to work in pouring rain and plenty of mud.

Hundreds of phone calls were received at the homes of various officials and members of the water department, as townspeople wondered why they could get so little water.

But Mr. Bassett expressed his thanks for the fine cooperation of the townspeople - "most of them commented on how too bad it was to be out in such a storm", he continued, "and didn't complain at all when told what the trouble was". He also was highly complimentary of his working force - all of the men returned to work, he said, and stayed with the job until it was finished.

Bassett said the short length of 10-inch pipe up Greenwood rd., from which the cap came off, is not used. A parallel main carries the water up that street.

But to fix the offending cap, it was necessary to shut off several gates, and leave a few houses near Route 93 without water.

Helped Raise Over $225,000

An Andover man has assisted Northeastern University in raising over a quarter of a million dollars in less than a year, it was announced Nov. 5, by Dr. Asa S. Knowles, N.U. president.

Joseph L. Daly, 300 North Main st., is chairman of the wholesale drug division of the Fund for Pharmacy, a phase of Northeastern's $40,000,000 Diamond Anniversary Development Program. The Fund has reached $252,000, Dr. Knowles reported.

Mr. Daly is president of James W. Daly Inc., 27 Union st., Lawrence.

"The results to date have justified our confidence in going ahead with the construction of a new home for the College of Pharmacy and establishing a Co-operative pharmacy educational program," Dr. Knowles said.

Department Budgets Being Considered

Preliminary departmental budgets are already under serious consideration by Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, as the Dec. deadline approaches.

Most departments have submitted their budgets to the manager, for his study. Meetings with the heads of departments are being scheduled later this month to work out differences.

Mr. Duff emphasized that the figures are entirely tentative at this time, because the entire 1962 expenditures can not be included until the end of the year. Projected expenditures must be utilized at this stage, he explained.

Ordinarily, the manager presents a preliminary budget to the Selectmen in conformance with the charter requirement. But it is revised during December, as the final bills come in.

The budget usually goes to the Finance Committee early in January for that board's study.

New Council On Recreation

Andover's recreation potential was outlined by Leslie Barlow, Recreation director, at a meeting in Town Hall last Thursday. Representatives of local groups long interested in recreation planning.

Barlow summarized the new problems, aims and potential of the newly formed Recreation department. He stated that there is a growing public demand for recreation, but that this demand must be shown in perspective by intelligent planning may be done. He observed that recreation needs are more subtly manifest than those of other departments, such as the school or fire department. There is very little overt evidence that the public can easily observe to substantiate recreation needs opposed to crowded schools and rising fires.

It was recommended by the group that a Citizen's Coordinating Council be formed to develop a recreation program. This group
